1. Buy Kidney vetch

Kidney vetch has small clusters of pale yellow flowers. Sometimes the flowers may also be red or orange. In the wild, Kidney vetch can be found on roadsides, coastal areas and grassland. In the garden, it is ideal in a bee and butterfly border or rockery preferring a light, well-drained soil. Great for containers too.

2. Buy Red clover

Red clover will flower for several months. Fabulous in grassland, meadow or at the front of a border. It is great for attracting Bumble bees through the Summer, and is also ideal to plant in containers. The plants love a sunny spot with well drained soil.

3. Buy Ox eye daisy

Ox eye daisy looks great naturalised into grassland with buttercups, knapweed and other meadow flowers or is amazing in flower beds. It is a real sun lover, and will survive in many soil types to return year after year..

4. Buy Birdsfoot trefoil

Birdsfoot trefoil is a plant for nectar and caterpillar food. It is low growing with beautiful yellow flowers. which change to orange as they mature. It will grow in a range of soil types and is ideal to grow in a garden lawn, grassland, meadow or patio container.

5. Buy Wild marjoram

Wild marjoram flowers from mid summer with clusters of pale lilac blooms. The flowers can last well into the Autumn and still attract pollinators. Lovely in a cottage garden or a container in sun/part shade. It prefers a well drained soil.

Our wildflowers are available online or direct from our nursery

Visit us in Somerset:

Our nursery is based in South Somerset and we are open weekly until the end of October, where we have our wonderful wildflowers ready to buy direct from the nursery.

We also grow a beautiful range of Herbaceous perennials and Ornamental grasses which blend beautifully with wildflowers to enhance the biodiversity in your garden and help create wildlife habitats across the seasons.

Our range is inspired by the naturalistic planting of Piet Oudolf and we are just 15 minutes from the famous Hauser & Wirth gardens in Bruton.

If you're out and about this Summer either locally in Somerset or travelling through the county why not pop in and say Hello.

We will have plenty of peat free Herbaceous perennials, Grasses and Wildflowers for you to browse and choose for your garden. Ready to plant and ready to grow.

For full details about the nursery check out The Blooming Wild Nursery website.
